Dear Fursenko Nataliia,

The Editorial Board of the academic peer-reviewed open access journal "Scientific Notes of Lviv University of Business and Law. Economics Series. Legal Series" would like to express our sincere gratitude for your review of the manuscript "Prospects for Socio-Economic Recovery of Ukraine in the Context of Migration Challenges".

Your review demonstrated a high level of professional expertise and a profound understanding of the issues surrounding migration processes and their impact on Ukraine's socio-economic recovery. We particularly value your thorough engagement with the manuscript, your careful attention to both its conceptual and methodological dimensions, and your professional approach to evaluating the research within the broader context of contemporary scholarship.

We greatly appreciate your constructive recommendations to strengthen the article's analytical depth, improve its methodological transparency, and enhance its practical applicability. Your balanced approach to assessing the work, which combines recognition of its scholarly merits with well-reasoned suggestions for improvement, is invaluable for maintaining the high standards of our scientific publications.

Your contribution to ensuring the quality of the journal's scholarly output is greatly appreciated. We thank you for your commitment to academic integrity and for your willingness to share your professional expertise to advance scholarship in the fields of economics and law.

We look forward to our continued fruitful collaboration.
